Commentary

In April dramatic action was taken by central banks around the world including the Bank of Canada which lowered the overnight lending rate another ½ percentage point. Lowering interest rates and providing liquidity to the market appears to have stabilized the credit crisis situation and allowed the market a confidence that has not been seen this year. This action by the BOC appears to have continued to stabilize the market throughout the month of May. The Toronto Stock Market hit an all time high (14,714) up 6.4% year to date with the crux of the return stemming from the commodity sector. The financial services sector has not performed well during this period of time with concerns about the ongoing announcements of the credit crisis / loan write downs. The nervousness is keeping large extended balances of cash in many investors' pockets until the credit concerns dissipate. It should be noted that the Canadian financial sector has little overall exposure to the U.S. sub prime loans.

The LifeSplit portfolio has a current dividend yield of approximately 2.9%.
